

Finding the right rifle is not always easy. So our designers decided to provide a remedy, and offer a choice of the various combinations that are often asked for by leading sportsmen. This approach has proved very successful. Our metallurgists have upgraded the materials used and the function and design has been further perfected wherever possible. Moreover, KRICO are pioneers. We introduced, for example, electronic ignition for conventional ammunition at the IWA exhibition, an invention that has been patented worldwide.

KRICO — The famous name for quality.

Nonconformity can be a badge of distinction. KRICO always have had and still have a mind of their own. Our business policies are just as eccentric. This confirms many views that KRICO have surprised many of their competitors with their innovations. Others consider the news a sensation that every "KRICO" purchased includes a 10-year warranty, it is yet another incentive to opt for a KRICO rifle. Our waywardness in itself guarantees innovation, singular design and workmanship, and an A1 customer service. We are sure you will find a KRICO rifle in this prospectus which matches your needs. Ask your local gunsmith today to give you a personal introduction to KRICO.

CALIBRES: .22 LR or .22 WMR

There's no getting away from the fact that the KRICO small-bore series has an edge on competitive products in respect of technical finesse, reliability and accuracy. After all, they are made with the same precision as our more expensive sporting rifles. Further proof of our waywardness in going one better is that these are the shortest varmint rifles around. That's a distinction. Why? It's now known that it is not solely barrel length that is instrumental towards better shooting. Result: a lighter rifle, improved handling, better pointability and unsurpassable accuracy too.

Application: 300 E Practice rifle for target shooting and hunting
300 D Rifle with double set trigger for hunting vermin and small game.
320 L Deluxe carbine version of the 300 D.

These top-grade, lightweight varmint rifles have become tremendously popular. The drop-down magazine and twin-lug safety bolt are two of several distinguishing features on KRICO 400 models.
